

Living Legacy Academy 2010-2011

As you plan for your 2010-2011 school year there are some changes at Living Legacy Academy that may pique your interest. Do you have a high school student who has no elementary siblings? Does your high school student need "just one more credit" to graduate? Maybe we can help.

New for the upcoming school year will be offering the opportunity for high school students to attend class day without a parental requirement to serve. What? We have altered our fee schedule to allow "independent" high school students to take only the classes they need without registering the whole family.

For "independent" high school students there are two options. You may enroll for classes without a parent volunteering by paying the web fee ($5.50), high school admin fee, $15.00 (which covers insurance) and $30.00 per class ($45.00 for a science lab)-the snack fee($11.00) is optional. Or, should a parent wish to fill a service position, the family may pay the registration fee, etc. and then pay only $10.00 per class ($25 sci lab).

The cost for classes with paid teachers will be dependent upon enrollment, and any needed textbooks are an additional cost. These are true for both options.

High school students may take needed/desired classes from either schedule.

If you plan to enroll an elementary student (K-7), a parent is still required to fulfill a service position. (min. of 2 hrs)

This minor change to our format may raise many questions. If so, please contact us. It is our belief that this new fee schedule offers an equitable solution to an observed need. Thank you!!
