

10 Things

Moms Wish They Could Go Back and Tell Themselves About Homeschooling

1 If you keep records on the computer back up, back up, back up, and then print it out anyway.

Talea from Wisteria and Worms

3 Sometimes you try something that doesn't work and it's not a failure – it just means you've learned it doesn't work for you. Move on.

Kelli from AdventurezinChildRearing

2 There's more than one way to teach your children what they need to know.

Jennifer A. Jones

4 Don't create "school" at home; it is a recipe for failure.

Felice

5 It's okay to stray from the textbooks.

Joy from My Home in the Smokies

6 Cherish the moments with your littlest ones knowing that motherhood is your first and most important ministry.

Jamie from The Unlikely Homeschooler

7 Homeschooling can be lonely for mom.

Kim from Little By Little

8 Be prepared for not so good days. Be prepared to put the books aside and put your relationship with your children first.

Rebecca from Mom's Mustard Seeds

9 Relax. You don't have to teach everything the first week, the first month, or the first year. Learning really is a life-long process.

Aurie from Our Good Life

10 Don't get caught up in the schedule. Follow your child and speed up or slow down as needed.
