

NEW TO HOMESCHOOLING IN OHIO?

If this is your first year homeschooling in Ohio, you may have questions about how we do things according to our state law. One of the best resources available (besides the actual law itself!) is the Ohio Homeschooling Parents website.

This page gives everything you need to know about the notification process. Follow their steps to getting started!

Note about upcoming changes: The current notification process will be changing in October due to a change in our state homeschool law. Please find information on that in the “New Homeschool Law” tab, as well as on the above website.
