

Mission

We exist to partner with and equip parents as they take ownership of their children's education, knowing that parents are the primary teachers of their children. Our homeschool tutorial is rooted in God's Word and shaped by Isaiah 61:3 and Psalm 127:4. We work together to raise children who are strong in faith, grounded in truth, and prepared to live for God's glory.

Isaiah 61:3 reminds us that God's people are "In their righteousness, they will be like the great oaks that the Lord has planted for his own glory.." Oaks grow slowly and intentionally, putting down deep roots that allow them to stand firm through every season. In the same way, our desire is to help children develop a faith that is deeply rooted in Christ—strong, steady, and able to withstand the challenges of the world—through a quality education, a biblical worldview, and a community of people dedicated to their growth.

Psalm 127:4 says, "Children born to a young man are like arrows in a warrior's hands." Arrows are shaped with care and aimed with purpose. As parents and educators, we walk alongside families to disciple children, train them in truth, and help point them in the right direction. We aim them toward Christ, trusting God with the outcome as they step into the world He has called them to influence.

Together, we partner with families to raise up the next generation of church and community leaders—children who are deeply rooted like oaks and purposefully directed like arrows. We believe it truly does take a village, and we are committed to creating space for that village.

Vision

We offer structured classes covering CORE subjects: language arts, history, science, math and Bible - designed to set children up for academic success and a lifetime love of learning. We provide resources and guidance for families to continue that education at home, allowing scholarly and biblically based homeschooling to be attainable for more families.
