WILLOW CREEK PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

OUR VISION: "To help build a great city and region for all people through a gospel movement that brings revival, renewal, and reformation to every aspect of life and culture in Central Florida and, through it, the world."

OUR BELIEFS:

Willow Creek, as a Christian church, affirms the orthodox, historic faith taught in the Scriptures and articulated in the Apostles' Creed and Nicene Creed.

As a twenty-first century expression of the Protestant Reformation, we also hold to the Westminster Confession of Faith and Catechisms as a sound reflection of our beliefs, subordinate to the supreme standard of God's Word.

Beyond this, we sometimes use five descriptors to describe Willow Creek Church. Although not exhaustive, they provide a clear snapshot of our identity.

Christians: First and foremost, we are followers of Jesus Christ, King of kings and Lord of lords. We believe that he is God, the second person of the Trinity, and our only redeemer. This is our ultimate and essential identity: children of God by his grace alone through faith alone in Jesus Christ alone. In this regard, we are united to all true believers throughout space and time, in heaven and on earth. Our denominational affiliation and convictions on secondary matters do not undermine or overshadow our fundamental unity with the universal church.

Evangelicals: We unashamedly and graciously preach of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the good news that salvation is by God's grace alone through faith alone in Jesus Christ alone. We want to live and share the awe-inspiring message of God's love, mercy, and forgiveness.

Missional: We believe that to share the gospel in word and deed requires that we live as missionaries in our families, schools, workplaces, communities, and culture with a posture of grace and peace. We long for members to have vital and loving connections in their communities, sharing the light and love of Christ with their neighbors.

Reformed: We are striving to be thoroughly biblical in our understanding of and approach to discipleship. We affirm that Scripture, and Scripture alone, is the highest authority in faith and practice. Searching the Scriptures, we hold to the apostolic and biblical teachings concerning God, humanity, and redemption recovered during the Protestant Reformation.

Presbyterian: We believe that the Scriptures clearly teach a governing structure for the church, and we enthusiastically embrace it: Presbyterianism.

Conclusion: With that said, one of our preeminent ministry maxims is this:

In the essentials, unity; in the non-essentials, liberty; in all things, charity.

In other words, not all aspects of our identity or belief are equally important; some things are more important than others. We unite around what matters most, and do not break fellowship on secondary matters that – while important – are clearly not essential.

What unites us as members at Willow Creek Church is our shared affirmation of the gospel of Jesus Christ, that we are Christians. On secondary matters, we affirm a wonderful and godly diversity. And in everything, we strive toward grace and peace - together!

For more about the PCA Church beliefs, Westminster Confession of Faith and Larger and Shorter Catechism go to www.pcenet.org.

While ministering at or through Willow Creek Presbyterian Church, I will not teach or otherwise seek to advance views contrary to the church's vision and its doctrinal beliefs as outlined in the Westminster Confession of Faith and its Larger and Shorter Catechisms.
