Mini Cooking hardly needs an introduction. A fun spin on a cooking class, Miss Natalie will challenge you to create small dishes with real food. Whether it be a bite sized baked potato or a mini cupcake, you will get to taste a little bit of everything!

Outdoor Adventures

You're invited to be outside all semester in this class. Maybe you will survive a hypothetical situation, or race another group to complete your scavenger hunt. This class will include fun activities like games, relays, fort building, and more! Maybe you'll get the chance to camouflage your group so your opponents can't find you.

Puppets and Readers Theater

11:45am-
12:30pm

In the fall semester, join Miss Susana on a journey of puppet acting! You will get to 'sew' your own puppet and practice performing a show with your puppets. You might need to help make your own stage with curtains attached so people can't see you acting with your puppet.

Bring your favorite book to share with the class! You might be asked a couple of questions about the characters and what your favorite part of the story is. Snack time will be a must during this class! In the spring, you'll get to create your storybook character. You can use your art of choice: paint, popsicle sticks, felt, or something else!
