This schedule is adaptable. If we are having fun one day with our history project and don't want to stop for Create time, then we'll keep going. If there is a student who wants to move on to their personal Create time project while everyone is still working on their history projects, then we can work around that.

Books To Read Together As A Class

The Bronze Bow – Elizabeth George Speare

The Door In The Wall - Marguerite De Angeli

The Personal Recollections of Joan of Arc – Marc Twain

Henry V – William Shakespeare (Oxford School Shakespeare series)

Pied Piper of Hamelin – Robert Browning

Ivanhoe – Sir Walter Scott

Students are encouraged to read an additional 6 books during the year on their own. A list is posted on the website in “Weekly Educational News” of suggestions that match the historical time period we are studying.
