Participation in the National Geography Bee can be an enriching experience for your child. SMIC Academy is pleased to host a local Jefferson County Homeschool National Geography Bee for 2016. SMIC Academy is providing the NGS Registration and Bee Materials, location, set up, communications, a moderator, scorekeeper, timer and paper goods for snacks. Student registration fees will help defer these costs and provide cash awards to the 1st, 2nd and 3rd place winners. The winner of this bee will be eligible to take the online test provided by the National Geographic Society, which, after scoring by the NGS can qualify a student for the State Geography Bee.

For more information about the National Geo Bee and rules please go to:

www.nationalgeographic.com/geobee/

Daily challenge questions from old school level bees can be found at:

<http://www.nationalgeographic.com/geobee/quiz/today/>

These 10 daily questions are the types of questions your children will encounter in the local level Geo Bee.

If you would like to register, please fill out the registration form below, attach your check and mail to the address given. Contact HomeEdGeoBee@gmail.com for any questions. You may also pay at the door for a slightly higher fee.

Please be on time. Rules limit interruptions in a round, and you will have to wait to enter the room between rounds.

If you would like to participate in an "International Food Fest" following the bee please bring a home-made snack or something interesting from one of the many international food and grocery stores in your area.
