

Dress Code

SBFA seeks to honor the Lord in how we present ourselves to Him and to others. (Romans 12:2).

In light of that goal, we ask parents and students to dress modestly and attractively without drawing undue attention to themselves. In the spirit of our desire to live Christ-centered lives, and in loving fellowship, we should strive to walk in consideration of others; therefore, not wearing clothing that is over-revealing, distasteful in written references, or in a way that would tempt or offend others. If clothing choices are questionable, it is our hope that as a member of this school that each individual will rise to a higher standard in their behavior and dress that represents Christ to one another as well as represents our school and homeschooling in general. SBFA considers it the primary responsibility of the parents to assure that their students are in compliance with these guidelines as a demonstration of love to the body of Christ. Concerns regarding attire should be brought to the attention of the Board, an administrator, or administrator designee to be addressed.

Code of Conduct

Our code of conduct is to exhibit Christ-like attitudes and actions, both on and off campus, as representatives of Christ, the homeschooling community and SBFA. There is a strong relationship between good dress habits, good work habits, and proper school behavior. Members are encouraged to dress in a way that represents Christ and demonstrates pride in themselves. The dress code was not created to interfere with free choice but to ensure that we are honoring Christ and the fellowship of believers.
