- For yearlong and fall semester-only classes: the teacher tuition and materials fees are due at the interview.
- Please write one check to Credo Academy for the new family application fee, this is a one-time fee for new families only, due at the beginning of the interview and it is completely non-refundable.
- All Credo registration fees (per class) may be combined for the family and written on a separate check made out to Credo Academy. Registration fees are non-refundable but are transferrable to another class within the same semester if an instructor cancels their class.
- Private lesson students (e.g., voice, piano, guitar): The first month of lessons & Credo registration fees need to be paid at the interview.
- The interview is a new family's class drop deadline date. After the interview is over, there are no refunds (unless a teacher cancels their class).
