9th - 12th	Introduction to Entrepreneurship: Build & Launch Your Own Business	This exciting and interactive course introduces high school students to the fundamentals of entrepreneurship. Over 30 weeks, students will learn how to develop a business idea, create a product, market it online, and manage the financial aspects of running a business. The course culminates in a hands-on project where students will design, produce, and sell their own product. Key topics include business planning, online marketing, budgeting, inventory management, and customer service email marketing. Students will leave the course equipped with real-world skills and confidence to pursue entrepreneurial ventures in the future. Homework: Students can expect 2-3 hours of homework per week. Assignments include market research, developing parts of a business plan, creating marketing materials, and preparing for the final product launch. Larger projects and deadlines will be provided in writing to allow for time management. Prerequisites: Students should have basic computer skills (e.g., navigating the internet, using word processing tools, have a gmail account) and be able to complete independent research. No prior business experience is required. Class supplies: Notebook, pen/pencil, laptop/tablet with internet access, any materials specific to the student's chosen product (e.g., crafting supplies, packaging, etc.) Optional: Business-related books (recommendations will be provided in class)	Korena Moss	$400/Year Tuition $20 Material Fee $65 Credo Registration Fee

9th - 12th	Berean Builders Discovering Design with Biology Lab	This two-hour class is the lab component of a two-semester high school biology course using the Berean Builders text book Discovering Design with Biology by Dr. Paul Madtes Jr. and Dr. Jay L. Wile. This course is a thorough introduction to how living organisms are designed and classified, how they interact with one another, and how they interact with their physical environment. Throughout the course, your student will see that life is the result of design and that organisms have been given the ability to adapt to their surroundings, as well as learn to identify the problems associated with modern evolutionary thinking. Concepts covered include the chemical processes for life, the structures of RNA and DNA, and cell design. After a thorough survey of the different kinds of organisms found in nature (archaea, bacteria, protists, fungi, invertebrates, vertebrates, and plants), your student will then learn about ecosystems and the biogeochemical cycles that keep environments hospitable to life. Labs include extracting DNA from fruit, examining the effects of temperature and pH on enzymes, exploring osmosis and diffusion, building a pedigree, culturing bacteria, growing and examining fungi, identifying the stages of mitosis, and analyzing the microscopic structure of plants and animals. There are also four dissection experiments: the earthworm, crayfish, fish, and frog. Homework: Each student should plan on 1-2 hours per week preparing for lab, completing the lab write-ups, and studying for lab quizzes. The structure of class will vary from week to week but may include lecture, additional notes, microscope work, dissection, or some other demonstration or lab activity. In addition, each chapter in the text will take your student about 2 weeks to complete. Students should plan on a few hours per week to read the text, work through the "Comprehension Check" problems, answer the "Review" questions, and do the chapter tests. This work is done under the guidance and supervision of a parent. Parent responsibility will include monitoring and grading all the work from the text ("Comprehension Check" and "Review" questions) and proctoring and grading the chapter tests. I will grade lab notebooks, lab write-ups, and lab quizzes. My recommendation is that 1. Homework and assignments; 2. Chapter Tests; and 3. Lab be weighted 1/3 each of total course grade. Prerequisites: MS general science class and/or life science class Class supplies: textbook Discovering Design with Biology by Dr. Paul Madtes Jr. and Dr. Jay L. Wile, published by Berean Builders. Parents will also need the Answer Key & Tests for the text. Students will need to bring to class each week a 3-ring binder (2 inch) with loose leaf paper and 4 dividers, ruler, pencils, pens, colored pencils, scissors, lab coat (optional) and safety goggles (required).	Candace Dixon	$450/Year Tuition $50 Material Fee $65 Credo Registration Fee
10th - 12th	Apologia Exploring Creation with Physics Lab	Exploring Creation with Physics curriculum, 2nd Edition is designed to provide students with a foundational understanding of physics while also preparing them for college-level physics and the ACT. Because the science of physics is an attempt to explain everything observed in nature, this text is an overview of the advances made over the last three thousand years! When your student completes Apologia's physics course, your student will be able to relate velocity, acceleration, time, and displacement, use mathematical equations for one-dimensional motion, understand and apply Newton's Laws, and be able to see the strong connection between math and science. Homework: Students should plan on about 5 hours per week to write lab reports and to prepare for class, as well as to read all the material in the textbook, complete homework, and to take the tests provided by the curriculum. Prerequisites: Algebra 2 (can be taken concurrently) Class supplies: Apologia Exploring Creation with Physics, Ed.2 text, a 3-ring binder with minimum of 4 dividers and loose-leaf paper, pencils, pens, 8 colored pencils, ruler (metric and English), scissors, calculator (smart phone is acceptable), lab coat (or apron), and safety (splash and impact resistant) goggles.	Candace Dixon	$470/Year Tuition $30 Material Fee $65 Credo Registration Fee

1st - 5th	The Real Pinocchio	The story of Pinocchio is familiar to most of us because of the Walt Disney movie produced in 1940, but in reality it is an Italian fairy tale written in 1881 by Tuscan author Carlo Lorenzini, known by his pen name as Collodi. The original story is much more complex; elements of fantasy and realism are masterfully blended into the story by using talking animals, a helpful, blue-haired fairy and Pinocchio's creator, the poor 19th century Italian carpenter. Collodi contrasts childhood, through the character of a carefree, self-centered puppet, to adulthood, where one is accountable for their actions. A Christian reading Pinocchio will find that the original story is filled with biblical imagery and symbols. Students in this class will learn about the geography of Italy, the background of the author, and the role of fantasy in literature. Vocabulary words will be discussed each week with an emphasis on character building. Plot, character, theme and setting will be also be studied. Coloring pages, the creation of a clay nativity and the construction of puppets for each character will enrich the book study. The semester will close with a puppet show at the Credo showcase. Homework: There are thirty-six chapters in the book. Some chapters are shorter than others so we will be reading two in class, but there are some weeks when a chapter will need to be read at home. Students needing help with reading are welcome to have their parents read to them each week. Prerequisites: None Class supplies: A unabridged copy of Pinocchio, the 2002 Penguin Classics version is recommended but not required, ISBN-10: 9780142437063, ISBN-13: 978-0142437063, a 1 inch notebook for handouts, and colored pencils. A welcome email and link to book will be sent to parents as well.	Sonya Lucio	$100/Semester Tuition $35 Material Fee $35 Credo Registration Fee

6th - 8th	Tales of Adventure	Using fictional works, combined with the study of biography, students in this year long class will learn about the individuality of nations as they experience life with pirates and knights. We'll begin with Treasure Island, an exciting and treacherous quest, imaginative and full of moral lessons for young people. Robert Louis Stevenson stated that the story was inspired by a detailed map he drew from his imagination. Published in the 1880s, it was popular among children and adults alike. Even in Stevenson's time, pirates were not at all common, so he set his story in the 1700s, and used strange words to give the narrative an archaic feel. Second semester's focus will be on the legends of Scotland as students are introduced to Walter Scott, the father of historical fiction. Sir Walter Scott: Wizard of the North, is an accurately researched biography and an enjoyable read, revealing the character of Scott as he faces ill health and becomes an author. Following the biographical study we'll read an abridged version of one of his best works. Set in England just after the Third Crusade, Ivanhoe is the tale of Wilfred, a young Saxon knight, and his love for the royal princess Rowena. With his father against their union, Wilfred embarks on a series of adventures to prove his worth, finding himself in conflict against the Normans and the Templars and allied with such larger-than-life figures as Robin Hood and Richard the Lion-heart. A timeless story of courage, chivalry, and courtly love, Ivanhoe is a grand epic. Students in this class will learn the elements of classic literature: plot, setting, characterization, style of the author, and theme. In Treasure Island, Stevenson writes sound into the text, and we will examine his use of words to create pictures for the reader. As we study we will create a treasure map, make a spyglass, and label the parts of a ship. The second semester will include learning the geography of England and Scotland, mapping "Ivanhoe" land, and completing related art projects. Notes will be taken both semesters to record significant plot, setting, and character elements, and writing assignments will be used to assess student learning. Homework: Homework may be as much as one hour a week, but will not exceed 90 minutes. It will include reading and some writing assignments that may require student research. Prerequisites: Students should be good readers. Ivanhoe, taught in the second semester, is the most challenging text we will use. Class supplies: Three-ring notebook, colored pencils or markers, pencil, eraser, and a copy of each of the following books: Unabridged version of Treasure Island by Robert Louis Stevenson, ISBN-10: 1789433878, ISBN-13: 978-1789433876, Sir Walter Scott: Wizard of the North by Pearle Henriksen Schultz, available from The Foundation for American Christian Education, or from Amazon. ISBN: 978-1-935851-14-1. Library copies are also acceptable. Ivanhoe by Sir Walter Scott and edited by Lucile and Hal Waldo, is a difficult book to find. Several copies have been obtained by the instructor, so the book will be provided in class and for lending by the instructor.	Sonya Lucia	$265/Year Tuition $50 Material Fee $65 Credo Registration Fee
6th - 8th	Writing with Lost Tools of Writing	This engaging and interactive writing course is designed to help middle school students develop strong persuasive writing skills using the Lost Tools of Writing curriculum. Students will refine their ability to think critically, organize their thoughts, and construct well-reasoned arguments while exploring classic literature. Each unit will focus on a different novel, guiding students through the process of crafting persuasive essays based on themes and moral dilemmas presented in the readings. By the end of the course, students will have gained confidence in their writing abilities, improved their analytical thinking, and mastered the foundational tools for clear and effective communication. Students will read The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe by C.S. Lewis; The Sign of the Beaver by Elizabeth George Speare; Carry On, Mr. Bowditch by Jean Lee Latham; Number the Stars by Lois Lowry; The Outsiders by S.E. Hinton; The Witch of Blackbird Pond by Elizabeth George Speare; Call of the Wild by Jack London; Johnny Tremain by Esther Forbes; and Around the World in 80 Days by Jules Verne. Homework: Students should expect around 2-4 hours of homework per week, including reading assignments, ANI charts, essay drafts, and revisions. The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe should be read prior to the first day of class so we can begin the first week. Major writing assignments and projects will be given in advance to allow for time management. Prerequisites: Students should have basic writing skills, including sentence and paragraph structure, as well as the ability to read and comprehend middle school-level novels independently or with parental guidance. Class supplies: Lost Tools of Writing Student Notebook, copies of required novels, notebook or binder for notes/assignments, pens, pencils, highlighters, and access to a computer for typing essays	Karena Moss	$250/Year Tuition $0 Material Fee $65 Credo Registration Fee
9th - 12th	World Literature: Exploring Society through Classic Texts	Embark on a literary journey across centuries and continents in this thought-provoking high school World Literature course. Designed for grades 9-12, this class dives deep in the cultural, historical, and societal themes of renowned classics. Students will analyze texts to explore topics like censorship, morality, power, identity, and justice. Through discussions, writing assignments, and projects, students will develop critical thinking and analytical skills, all while gaining a deeper understanding of literature's influence on society. This class is perfect for students who enjoy reading, analyzing and discussing big ideas in literature. Students will read The Killer Angles by Michael Shaara; Uncle Tom's Cabin by Harriet Beecher Stowe; Jane Eyre by Charlotte Bronte; The Yellow Wallpaper by Charlotte Perkins Gilman; The Count of Monte Cristo by Alexandre Dumas; And Then There Were None by Agatha Christie; The Murders in the Rue Morgue by Edgar Allan Poe; Crime and Punishment by Fyodor Dostoevsky; Frankenstein by Mary Shelley; Animal Farm by George Orwell; and The Communist Manifesto by Karl Marx. These novels contain mature themes, so parents are encouraged to read the books and discuss with their students at home. Homework: Students can expect 2-3 hours of homework per week, including reading assignments, journaling, and short essays. Larger projects, such as thematic analyses and/or research papers, will be assigned with ample notice to allow for planning. Prerequisites: Students should be comfortable with high school-level reading and writing. Basic essay writing skills are required. Class supplies: Copies of required novels, notebook, pens/pencils, 3-ring binder	Karena Moss	$350/Year Tuition $0 Material Fee $65 Credo Registration Fee

9th - 12th	To Kill a Mockingbird	To Kill a Mockingbird by Harper Lee, published in 1960, is a classic novel set in the 1930s in Maycomb, Alabama. It explores themes of race, class, morality, and justice through the perspective of Scout Finch, a young girl. Scout and her brother, Jem, are raised by their father, Atticus Finch, a lawyer who defends Tom Robinson, an African-American man falsely accused of a crime. The trial reveals the deep racial divides in society, and the Finch family faces prejudice and hostility from the townspeople. Throughout the novel, Scout and Jem learn about empathy, courage, and the flaws in the legal system. Notgrass recommends this book to go along with the US History 1800-1950. In class, students will engage in projects like character maps, timelines of significant events, and vocabulary analysis. These activities aim to enhance critical thinking, reading, and note-taking skills while exploring key themes such as racial injustice, empathy, and the loss of innocence. The novel, which won the Pulitzer Prize for Fiction in 1961, remains an important piece of American Literature, relevant both to its time and to today's world. This novel contains mature themes, so parents are encouraged to read the book and discuss with their students at home. Homework: Students can expect up to 2 hours a week. Most reading will be done at home, staying on track with the schedule. The audio book is strongly suggested. We will be annotating in this book, so please have a personal copy to use. A hands-on project and a literary analysis will be assigned. Prerequisites: If concerned about the content of this book, please speak with Mrs. Fischer before registering. Class supplies: 5 binder dividers, To Kill a Mockingbird by Harper Lee	Janean Fischer	$130/Semester Tuition $25 Material Fee $35 Credo Registration Fee
9th - 12th	Short Story and Novel Writing	Students will read several short stories of various genres, and then write their own in preparation for writing an entire novella. Class members will learn how to helpfully critique each other's work, and will be able to recognize good grammar and story structure. Class covers the basics of plot, character development and pacing. Mr. C. has many short stories, four novels and thirty other books in print, so he will be sharing his experience with the publishing industry to help students with their writing adventure! Homework: Approximately 1 hour each week of reading, and 1-2 hours of writing. Please be able to print from your computer at home. STUDENTS MUST PRINT OUT THEIR WRITING TO SHARE WITH ALL FELLOW STUDENTS EACH WEEK! Prerequisites: Students must have knowledge of standard grammar. Each book in this series focuses on a different aspect of the principles of a free society. This course will help develop critical thinking skills about real-world concepts. We will spend 2 weeks on each book: reading, discussing, and doing fun projects/experiments with a writing assignment per book. We will read 6 books each semester. Homework: Writing assignment every other week Prerequisites: None Class supplies: The Tuttle Twins series of 12 books, Bible, writing utensil of choice, colored pencils, 3 ring 1/2inch binder or folder for assignments	Sophia Miller	$200/Year Tuition $50 Material Fee $65 Credo Registration Fee
6th - 8th	US History - Stories of America	In class, we will begin with Columbus, the Great Sailor, and explore how the colonies were established following the arrival of the Pilgrims in America. Our journey will include learning about Daniel Boone and his contributions to westward expansion, digging into the causes and effects of the French and Indian War, and studying the American Revolution, the fight for independence and the founding of a new government. We will conclude with Remembering the Alamo, reflecting on its significance in American history and the spirit of those who fought for freedom. Throughout our studies, we will participate in discussions, activities, and reflections to enhance our understanding of these pivotal historical moments. Students will engage in activities like map exploration, character maps, create an interactive timeline highlighting the arrival of the Pilgrims, the establishment of colonies, and key events, draw by hand a map of the original colonies and other added territories and states. Students will participate in role-playing activities, a Patriot vs. Loyalist debate, and create a class newspaper, writing articles covering different events from the time period. Homework: Students can expect up to 1 hour of homework a week. The reading will need to be completed at home along with some project work. Prerequisites: None Class supplies: America: Our Stories, Volume 1 (you can find it here), color pencils, pencils, pens, and paper	Janean Fischer	$225/Year Tuition $25 Material Fee $65 Credo Registration Fee

Dual Enrollment
Registration details for dual enrollment with CCU Academy: Students must be 15 to apply for the fall 2025 semester. In addition, online classes are asynchronous, meaning that lectures are pre-recorded so that students are not required to login to the course at a specific time. Instead, there are weekly deadlines in the course that allow students to complete their work when they are able throughout the week. Applications for the fall semester are available. Students may register for courses once their application is accepted. It normally takes 1-2 weeks for a dual enrollment application to be accepted. Registration will be open April 15, 2025 if done through Credo. If registering through Credo, please contact Janean Fischer as soon as possible. Registration opens on June 9, 2025 on the CCU website. Online dual enrollment courses through CCU Academy cost $110 per credit, so most classes are $330 per course. Spring tuition must be paid by start of classes. Online classes begin August 25, 2025. See the academic calendar here. A Credo parent volunteer, who is the room supervisor, will have everyone in a classroom going through the course together as long as individual assignments are done individually. All classes are from a Christian perspective. To Register with CREDO: Go to the Credo Academy website- click "registration" on the left tabs, then go to "register for classes." The class matrix will come up then you will have the option to sign up for 1, 2, or 3 DE classes: a. Class time will offer students deadline accountability and a Credo parent volunteer in the room who also has access to the same online class so they can answer questions and help with assignments. That parent monitor will have some access to the CCU professor and will possibly be able to hold class discussions. But the parent in the room will have access to the class and should be a great help to the students. The class time will also have dedicated time for them to work on their assignments. b. 1st - 5th	Super Sketchers: Cartoon Drawing Fun!	Cartoon Drawing has been a way to simplify human expression and story in a fun (or funny) way for anyone to enjoy! Join Mary as she teaches you how to go from basic shapes and lines, to emotions and movement! Bring your ideas to life by creating strong characters with story and feeling, using prompts and characters you know and love. Finish off the semester with a finished character of your own with a 5 scene story spread. Homework: Bringing reference photos from home and finishing some drawings Prerequisites: None Class supplies: A supply list will be emailed to students before classes begin. Some supplies will be provided by the instructor.	Mary Langewisch	$130/Semester Tuition $0 Material Fee * Accepts PayPal, Venmo, Zelle fragile.glory.impressions@gmail.com $35 Credo Registration Fee
6th - 12th	Drawing to Communicate	Drawing can be a tool used to communicate ideas, but it is a skill many don't take the time to learn. In this class you will learn to use drawing to get your point across whether that is in school, the workplace, with engaging presentations, projects, and meetings. Learn simple, quick, effective ways to draw the things needed to better communicate an idea or make a point. This class is a great place to start if you have never learned drawing before, or if you just need to brush up on your skills. You will be instructed on drawing basic shapes, more realistic stick figures, 3D shapes and icons. Yes we have technology to create graphs, fancy text, icons, 3D layouts and so on, but there will always be moments where a quick drawing would do the trick! You can make your presentations interactive, your ideas pop off the page, and even impress your friends during board games like Pictionary and Telestrations! Homework: None Prerequisites: Practicing what is learned in class Class supplies: A supply list will be emailed to students before classes begin. Credo Academy serves private homeschoolers and does not open its program to families who have chosen to participate in public school programs. We pass no judgment on the sincerity of their Christian commitment, but Credo Academy is committed to ensuring that there is always a private, Christian education alternative of excellence. *Note: Only college or vocational classes which your family pays for, or college or vocational classes in concurrent enrollment (Two Roads, Early Colleges, HOPE, Aerolabs, etc.) are not included in this prohibition. Please verify your situation with Credo leadership if you have questions.

By registering for a course, families are making a commitment to the instructor and the class. Therefore, full payment (tuition and material fees) are due on the first day of Credo in August. Spring semester-only courses are due on the first day of Credo in January. Unless the student has officially withdrawn from the course by notifying Credo Academy in writing before the drop deadline. After the drop deadline, no refunds will be issued. Students enrolled in yearlong courses are required to attend BOTH the fall and spring semesters. Registration fees for Credo classes ($65/year or $35/semester) are due in full at the time of registration.

The payment for the first month of private lessons is due on the first day of Credo in August. By registering for a private lesson, you are committing to pay for at least the first 30 days of the course, unless the class is dropped before the drop deadline. After the drop deadline, the first month's payment is required, even if the student chooses not to continue with the lessons. Once the initial payment is made, please work directly with the private lesson instructor to arrange a payment plan for subsequent lessons.
