

Providence Home Educators...

Who We Are

Providence Home Educators (PHE) is a Christian group whose members work together to help develop character and academic excellence in their children. The group is committed to Biblical standards in all that we do and our activities reflect our commitment to the Lord Jesus Christ. We offer two membership options:

1. PHE support group - no academic classes, but you are invited to join the fun stuff
2. PHE co-operative classes - we meet one day during the week.

PHE completely relies on the volunteer support of its members, and each family is required to help carry the load. There is an annual fee to cover supplies, facility expense, printing, a small donation to Home Education Foundation*, and an FPEA* membership if desired. If joining the weekly academic classes, a separate monthly fee is required to cover the facility expense, copies, folders, supplies, etc. The weekly academic classes also require that at least one representative from each family teach a class and assist in a class. Individual school supplies for the student must be provided by the participating family.

Support Group - you are invited to any of our fun activities, such as field trips, Mom's Night Out, our Get Acquainted Picnic, Family Movie Night, annual Christmas program, Fine Arts Night, school pictures, high school Gingerbread House Contest, drama productions, Senior Appreciation lunch, high school graduation program, and end of the year promotion / yearbook signing party, as well as the opportunity to purchase a yearbook.

Co-operative Classes - Starting in August and going through May, we offer nursery through 12th grade. We cover the four main subjects - math, history, English, and science. We also offer a yearbook class for high school students. With the exception of yearbook, each class is 90 minutes long and lunch, which is 45 minutes. Our school year consists of 32 weeks of assigned homework.
