Application for School Year 2010 - 2011

Code of Conduct / Dress Guidelines

1. Greensboro Christian Co-op parents and children are exhorted to conduct themselves in a Christ-like manner, remembering that we are all in the Body of Christ. Specifically in our various classes and activities, volunteer organization leaders are to be given respect, cooperation, and cheerful obedience. All members will seek to teach and encourage good stewardship in caring for the facility, equipment, and property of others. All members will seek to teach and encourage the welcoming, courteous, cooperative and respectful treatment of others.
2. All G.C.C. members will seek to give a “good report” of others, and teach and encourage the Biblical example of keeping right relationships with one another. As parents, we share the goal of godly behavior and agree to assume responsibility and to address situations as they arise with the children in the group. (Ephesians 4:29; Colossians 3:12-14; Hebrews 10:24)
3. G.C.C. does not wish to impose specific dress requirements, However, all G.C.C. members are asked to dress modestly and in a conservative manner appropriate for the season based on a desire to be pleasing to the Lord as an image bearer and to avoid causing a brother or sister to sin or stumble. Examples of inappropriate clothing are:
Women/Girls: Tight fitting or low cut clothing, clothing that exposes the mid-riff, low rise pants unless a long shirt covers the hip area, short-shorts, skirts or dresses well above the knee, and spaghetti straps.
Men/Boys: Tight fitting clothing, clothing that exposes the mid-riff, baggy pants that expose underclothing, shirts that expose the chest.
4. No weapons or sharp objects are to be brought onto church property. If a class requires a tool that has the potential to cause bodily injury, please turn the tool into the teacher upon arrival to co-op.
