Project 1:11 is a worship and arts school based in East Lansing with a vision to make God's name great through the arts.

- We disciple people to love Jesus
- Train them to express themselves skillfully and creatively
- Cultivate a community who create art that makes God known

Justin Reid is the founder of Project 1:11 and a local worship leader who earned his Masters Degree in Music Theory Pedagogy from Michigan State University and an Associates Degree in Recording Technology from Grand Rapids Community College. He has over 20 years of songwriting experience and has led worship for over 15 years. Justin has written and recorded 6 albums, co-written and produced the first Project 1:11 album and co-written internationally with recording artist Iron Heart from the Dominican Republic. He has taught everything from beginner children's piano lessons to college level courses for the Michigan State University Music Department and he has been teaching songwriting classes since 2017.

Justin's passion is for people to fall in love with Jesus and create art that makes God known.
