

Registration for WATCH Website: Homeschool-Iife.com

Name:

Address;

Phone:

Email address:

Policies:

1. I understand that my user name and password are for my use as a paying member and will not give it to anyone else.
2. I understand this group is exclusively for homeschooling families and agree to only recommend for membership those for whom I can vouch as authentic homeschoolers. I understand this is for the protection of the member families.
3. I understand that, as a homeschooling family, the choices we make carry the potential of affecting other homeschoolers. Consequently, we should endeavor to carry out the task of homeschooling in such a way that we will be above reproach.
4. When making decisions on legislative, legal, or similar issues dealing with our school district, I will consider the recommended course of action as given by MACHE and/or HSLDA, knowing that whatever course of action I take or do not take, may potentially set a precedence or adversely affect other homeschooling families.
5. I understand that this group is based on Christian principles.
6. I agree not to give out any member's name, email, "snail mail" address, or phone number without that person's specific permission to do so.
7. I agree that I will not copy or pass on anything posted by another member without their explicit permission.
8. I agree not to verbally attack any member or their ideas using the medium of this website, which is public by nature. I understand it is my Biblical responsibility (see Matt. 18:15-17 & Matt. 5:23-24) if I see a problem that needs to be addressed, to go directly and privately to the person with whom I have an issue. I agree that I should not engage in any unwholesome communication, but should only communicate that which is helpful for building others up according to their needs, and that it may benefit those who listen. (See Ephesians 4:29-32 & Hebrews 12:14-15)
9. I understand that once I have registered, no refunds will be issued. Additionally, I will notify the website (via the Contact Administrators tab) in the case that I am no longer homeschooling during the school year.
10. I agree that if I do not abide by these policies, it may be necessary for my name to be withdrawn from the membership list.

Subscriber Obligations:

All content uploaded to the Subscriber's Web site is the property of the Subscriber's homeschool group, or the Subscriber has obtained official permission from the content's rightful owner to display the content. This 'content' includes, but is not limited to: copyrights, trademarks, patents, graphics, photos, logos, intellectual property, written articles, or text of any kind that was taken from a third party source.

The Subscriber will adhere to all Federal, State, and Local laws concerning the collection and dissemination of personal information taken from users through Subscriber's site. [I agree that I will not copy or pass on anything posted by another member without their explicit permission.]

Will not use any of Homeschool-Life.com TM to send unsolicited emails, otherwise known as spamming.

Will not post any content that is considered illegal under the law.

Will not post any content that can be considered obscene, profane, libelous, or racist in nature.

Will not post any content that is pornographic.

Will not post any programs or files that are protected by copyrights against duplication.

Will not post any programs that are malicious in nature, i.e. virus, worm, etc...

Ownership:

The System - The Provider owns all rights to all files, technology, and branding that comprises Homeschool- Life.com TM application and any associated graphics or graphical templates. This includes any enhancements or upgrades that the Subscriber may pay for.

The Content - The Subscriber owns any content that is input using homeschool.- Life.com TM. The Subscriber is therefore liable for all content on their respective group site.

Both the Provider and the Subscriber agree to protect the information and rights each has in regards to The System and the Content. The Subscriber further agrees that Homeschool-Life.comTM, its structure and applications, are the sole property of

Homeschool-Life.com TM and that the Subscriber will not use its own access or give access to any third party to view Homeschool-Life.com TM to reverse engineer any portion, in part or in whole, of Homeschool- Life.com TM

Signature _____

By signing this, I acknowledge that I have read this form in its entirety, and hereby agree to the conditions as stated.

Name:

Address;

Phone:

Email address:

Policies:

1. I understand that my user name and password are for my use as a paying member and will not give it to anyone else.
2. I understand this group is exclusively for homeschooling families and agree to only recommend for membership those for whom I can vouch as authentic homeschoolers. I understand this is for the protection of the member families.
3. I understand that, as a homeschooling family, the choices we make carry the potential of affecting other homeschoolers. Consequently, we should endeavor to carry out the task of homeschooling in such a way that we will be above reproach.
4. When making decisions on legislative, legal, or similar issues dealing with our school district, I will consider the recommended course of action as given by MACHE and/or HSLDA, knowing that whatever course of action I take or do not take, may potentially set a precedence or adversely affect other homeschooling families.
5. I understand that this group is based on Christian principles.
6. I agree not to give out any member's name, email, "snail mail" address, or phone number without that person's specific permission to do so.
7. I agree that I will not copy or pass on anything posted by another member without their explicit permission.
8. I agree not to verbally attack any member or their ideas using the medium of this website, which is public by nature. I understand it is my Biblical responsibility (see Matt. 18:15-17 & Matt. 5:23-24) if I see a problem that needs to be addressed, to go directly and privately to the person with whom I have an issue. I agree that I should not engage in any unwholesome communication, but should only communicate that which is helpful for building others up according to their needs, and that it may benefit those who listen. (See Ephesians 4:29-32 & Hebrews 12:14-15)
9. I understand that once I have registered, no refunds will be issued. Additionally, I will notify the website (via the Contact Administrators tab) in the case that I am no longer homeschooling during the school year.
10. I agree that if I do not abide by these policies, it may be necessary for my name to be withdrawn from the membership list.

Subscriber Obligations:

All content uploaded to the Subscriber's Web site is the property of the Subscriber's homeschool group, or the Subscriber has obtained official permission from the content's rightful owner to display the content. This 'content' includes, but is not limited to: copyrights, trademarks, patents, graphics, photos, logos, intellectual property, written articles, or text of any kind that was taken from a third party source.

The Subscriber will adhere to all Federal, State, and Local laws concerning the collection and dissemination of personal information taken from users through Subscriber's site. [I agree that I will not copy or pass on anything posted by another member without their explicit permission.]

Will not use any of Homeschool-Life.com TM to send unsolicited emails, otherwise known as spamming.

Will not post any content that is considered illegal under the law.

Will not post any content that can be considered obscene, profane, libelous, or racist in nature.

Will not post any content that is pornographic.

Will not post any programs or files that are protected by copyrights against duplication.

Will not post any programs that are malicious in nature, i.e. virus, worm, etc...

Ownership:

The System - The Provider owns all rights to all files, technology, and branding that comprises Homeschool- Life.com TM application and any associated graphics or graphical templates. This includes any enhancements or upgrades that the Subscriber may pay for.

The Content - The Subscriber owns any content that is input using homeschool.- Life.com TM. The Subscriber is therefore liable for all content on their respective group site.

Both the Provider and the Subscriber agree to protect the information and rights each has in regards to The System and the Content. The Subscriber further agrees that Homeschool- Life.comTM, its structure and applications, are the sole property of

Homeschool-Life.com TM and that the Subscriber will not use its own access or give access to any third party to view Homeschool-Life.com TM to reverse engineer any portion, in part or in whole, of Homeschool- Life.com TM

Signature _____

By signing this, I acknowledge that I have read this form in its entirety, and hereby agree to the conditions as stated.