

Welcome to our website! Johnston County Home Educators of North Carolina (JCHEnc) is a non-denominational, Christian home school support organization. JCHE's purpose is to encourage, support, and strengthen home school families in and around Johnston County, North Carolina.

Johnston County Home Educators strives to serve as a resource, support, and communication network to our home school community by providing academic, social, and ministerial opportunities. We provide multiple home school activities for all ages, Pre-K to High School. We evaluate our offerings frequently and new members are welcome to create new clubs and activities within our organization.

Membership is open to all home schooling families in and around Johnston County who are willing to uphold the ideals of JCHE and comply with the North Carolina home school law.

Our membership term runs from July 1st of each year through June 30th of the subsequent year. Our renewal/signup period starts June 1st. New members who join in June have that month FREE.

You may sign up at any time. However, your membership will only be valid from the date you register until the end of the membership term. Dues are $35.
