Our Part: we will uphold a fully Catholic and challenging learning environment for all of our students.

Your Part: this is a voluntary association with Divine Mercy Homeschool Co-op. This means that you are expected to adhere to the following for the privilege of being a part of this community.

- Treat every person and their property with respect.
- Show dignity in speech, dress and action, in line with the morality and teachings of the Catholic Church.
- Have all necessary books and supplies before the first day of classes.
- Come to every class on time and well-prepared.
- Be honest, and do your own work.
- Honor every deadline given you.
- Own your education. Ultimately, you're in charge of learning what your parents and teachers present for you.
- Clean up after yourself. Leave this place better than you found it.
- Contact your instructors ahead of time if you will be absent. Arrange with another student to get missed notes and assignments.
- Cell Phone use is not permitted during class, and may be confiscated by the instructor.
- Refrain from any gossip, cliques, or any other uncharitable actions.
- No smoking, alcohol, or illegal drugs.
- No sexual contact, innuendo, suggestive speech or conduct.
- No accessing, sending, or possession of immoral materials.

I understand that I could be suspended temporarily or expelled permanently either from a specific course or from DMHC entirely, without refund, for plagiarism, cheating, blatant disrespect, or other serious misconduct as defined by the requirements above.
