Home Education Program.--(a) The following words and phrases when used in this section shall have the meanings given to them in this subsection:

“Appropriate education” shall mean a program consisting of instruction in the required subjects for the time required in this act and in which the student demonstrates sustained progress in the overall program.

“Department” shall mean the Department of Education of the Commonwealth.

“Hearing examiner” shall not be an officer, employee or agent of the Department of Education or of the school district or intermediate unit of residence of the child in the home education program.

“Home education program” shall mean a program conducted, in compliance with this section, by the parent or guardian or such person having legal custody of the child or children.

“Supervisor” shall mean the parent or guardian or such person having legal custody of the child or children who shall be responsible for the provision of instruction, provided that such person has a high school diploma or its equivalent.

(b) The requirements contained in sections 1511 and 1511.1, except as provided for in this section, and section 1605 shall not apply to home education programs. A home education program shall not be considered a nonpublic school under the provisions of this act.

(1) A notarized affidavit of the parent or guardian or other person having legal custody of the child or children, filed prior to the commencement of the home education program and annually thereafter on August 1 with the superintendent of the school district of residence and which sets forth: the name of the supervisor of the home education program who shall be responsible for the provision of instruction; the name and age of each child who shall participate in the home education program; the address and telephone number of the home education program site; that such subjects as required by law are offered in the English language, including an outline of proposed education objectives by subject area; evidence that the child has been immunized in accordance with the provisions of section 1303(a) and has received the health and medical services required for students of the child’s age or grade level in Article XIV; and that the home education program shall comply with the provisions of this section and that the notarized affidavit shall be satisfactory evidence thereof. The required outline of proposed education objectives shall not be utilized by the superintendent in determining if the home education program is out of compliance with this section and section 1327. The affidavit shall contain a certification to be signed by the supervisor that the supervisor, all adults living in the home and persons having legal custody of a child or children in a home education program have not been convicted of the criminal offenses enumerated in subsection I of section 111 within five years immediately preceding the date of the affidavit. (See page 21 for list of criminal offenses)
(2) In the event the home education program site is relocating to another school district within this Commonwealth during the course of the public school term or prior to the opening of the public school term in the fall, the supervisor of the home education program must apply, by registered mail, thirty (30) days prior to the relocation, to the superintendent of the district in which he or she currently resides, requesting a letter of transfer for the home education program to the district to which the home education program is relocating. The current superintendent of residence must issue the letter of transfer thirty (30) days after receipt of the registered mail request of the home education program supervisor.

(i) If the home education program is not in compliance with the provisions of this section, the superintendent of the current district of residence must inform the home education supervisor and the superintendent of the district to which the home education program is relocating the status of the home education program and the reason for the denial of the letter of transfer.

(ii) If the home education program is in hearing procedures, as contained in this section, the superintendent of the current district of residence must inform the home education supervisor, the assigned hearing examiner and the superintendent of the district to which the home education program is relocating the status of the home education program and the reason for the denial of the letter of transfer.

(3) The letter of transfer, required by clause (2), must be filed by the supervisor of the home education program with the superintendent of the new district of residence. In the case of pending proceedings, the new district of residence superintendent shall continue the home education program until the appeal process is finalized.

I A child who is enrolled in a home education program and whose education is therefore under the direct supervision of his parent, guardian or other person having legal custody shall be deemed to have met the requirements of section 1327 if that home education program provides a minimum of one hundred eighty (180) days of instruction or nine hundred (900) hours of instruction per year at the elementary level, or nine hundred ninety (990) hours per year at the secondary level:

(1) At the elementary school level, the following courses shall be taught:

English, to include spelling, reading and writing; arithmetic; science; geography; history of the United States and Pennsylvania; civics; safety education, including regular and continuous instruction in the dangers and prevention of fires; health and physiology; physical education; music; and art.

(2) At the secondary school level, the following courses shall be taught:

English, to include language, literature, speech and composition; science; geography; social studies, to include civics, world history, history of the United States and Pennsylvania; mathematics, to include general mathematics, algebra and geometry; art; music; physical education; health; and safety education, including regular and continuous instruction in the dangers and prevention of fires. Such courses of study may include, at the discretion of the supervisor of the home education program, economics; biology; chemistry; foreign languages; trigonometry; or other age-appropriate courses as contained in Chapter 5 (Curriculum Requirements) of the State Board of Education.

(d) The following minimum courses in grades nine through twelve are established as a requirement for graduation in a home education program:

1. Four years of English.
2. Three years of mathematics.
3. Three years of science.
4. Three years of social studies.
5. Two years of arts and humanities.

(d.1) (1) Notwithstanding any provision of this act or any other law or regulation to the contrary, a high school diploma awarded by a supervisor or an approved diploma granting organization shall be considered as having all the rights and privileges afforded by the Commonwealth, a Commonwealth agency, including, but not limited to, the Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency, a political subdivision, a local agency and an authority or instrumentality of the Commonwealth or a political subdivision to a high school diploma awarded under this act, subject to sub-paragraphs (i) and (ii):

   (i) In the case of a diploma awarded by a supervisor the following shall apply:

   (A) The student receiving the diploma shall have completed all the requirements in subsection (d) while enrolled in a home education program that is in compliance with this section.

   (B) The diploma shall be awarded to the student on a standardized form to be developed by the department and which shall be made available on the department’s publicly accessible Internet website.

   (C) The diploma shall be signed by the student’s twelfth grade evaluator in confirmation of the student’s suitability for graduation.

   (ii) In the case of a diploma awarded by an approved diploma-granting organization the following shall apply:

   (A) The student receiving the diploma shall have completed all the requirements in subsection (d) while enrolled in a home education program that is in compliance with this section.

   (B) The diploma shall be awarded to the student on a standardized form to be developed by the organization.

   (2) The department shall establish eligibility criteria and an application process for approving diploma-granting organizations to award high school diplomas to students enrolled in home education programs. The department shall maintain a list of approved diploma-granting organizations and post the list on the department’s publicly accessible Internet website.
In order to demonstrate that appropriate education is occurring, the supervisor of the home education program shall provide and maintain on file the following documentation for each student enrolled in the home education program:

1. A portfolio of records and materials. The portfolio shall consist of a log, made contemporaneously with the instruction, which designates by title the reading materials used, samples of any writings, worksheets, workbooks or creative materials used or developed by the student and in grades three, five and eight results of nationally normed standardized achievement tests in reading/language arts and mathematics or the results of Statewide tests administered in these grade levels. The department shall establish a list, with a minimum of five tests, of nationally normed standardized tests from which the supervisor of the home education program shall select a test to be administered if the supervisor does not choose the Statewide tests. At the discretion of the supervisor, the portfolio may include the results of nationally normed standardized achievement tests for other subject areas or grade levels. The supervisor shall ensure that the nationally normed standardized tests or the Statewide tests shall not be administered by the child’s parent or guardian.

   i. A teacher or administrator who evaluates a portfolio at the elementary level (grades kindergarten through six) shall have at least two years of experience in grading any of the following subjects: English, to include spelling, reading and writing; arithmetic; science; geography; history of the United States and Pennsylvania; and civics.

   ii. A teacher or administrator who evaluates a portfolio at the secondary level (grades seven through twelve) shall have at least two years of experience in grading any of the following subjects: English, to include language, literature, speech, reading and composition; science, to include biology, chemistry and physics; geography; social studies, to include economics, civics, world history, history of the United States and Pennsylvania; foreign language; and mathematics, to include general mathematics, algebra, trigonometry, calculus and geometry.

   iii. As used in this clause, the term “grading” shall mean evaluation of classwork, homework, quizzes, classwork-based tests and prepared tests related to classwork subject matter.

2. An annual written evaluation of the student’s educational progress as determined by a licensed clinical or school psychologist or a teacher certified by the Commonwealth or by a nonpublic school teacher or administrator. Any such nonpublic teacher or administrator shall have at least two years of teaching experience in a Pennsylvania public or nonpublic school within the last ten years. Such nonpublic teacher or administrator shall have the required experience at the elementary level to evaluate elementary students or at the secondary level to evaluate secondary students. The certified teacher shall have experience at the elementary level to evaluate elementary students or at the secondary level to evaluate secondary students. The evaluation shall also be based on an interview of the child and a review of the portfolio required in clause
(1) and shall certify whether or not an appropriate education is occurring. At the request of the supervisor, persons with other qualifications may conduct the evaluation with the prior consent of the district of residence superintendent. In no event shall the evaluator be the supervisor or their spouse.

(f) The school district of residence shall, at the request of the supervisor, lend to the home education program copies of the school district’s planned courses, textbooks and other curriculum materials appropriate to the student’s age and grade level.

(f.1) (1) Beginning January 1, 2006, the school district of residence shall permit a child who is enrolled in a home education program to participate in any activity that is subject to the provisions of section 511, including, but not limited to, clubs, musical ensembles, athletics and theatrical productions, provided that the child:

(i) Meets the eligibility criteria or their equivalent for participation in the activity that apply to students enrolled in the school district;

(iii) Complies with all policies, rules and regulations or their equivalent of the governing organization of the activity.

(2) For the purposes of this subsection, the school district of residence’s program of interscholastic athletics, including varsity sports, shall be considered an activity and shall include all activities related to competitive sports contests, games, events or exhibitions involving individual students or teams of students whenever such activities occur between schools within the school district or between schools outside of the school district.

(3) Where the activity requires completion of a physical examination or medical test as a condition of participation and the school district of residence offers such physical examination or medical test to students enrolled in the school district, the school district shall permit a child who is enrolled in a home education program to access such physical examination or medical test. The school district shall publish the dates and times of such physical examination or medical test in a publication of general circulation in the school district and on its publicly accessible Internet website.

(4) A board of school directors may adopt a policy to implement the requirements of this subsection. Such policy shall only apply to participation in activities and shall not conflict with any provisions of this section.

((f.1) added Nov. 10, 2005, P.L.374, No.67)

(g) When documentation is required by this section to be submitted to the hearing examiner, the hearing examiner shall return, upon completion of his review, all such documentation to the supervisor of the home education program. ((h.1) added Oct. 31, 2014, P.L.2967, No.196)

(i) (i) deleted by amendment Oct. 31, 2014, P.L.2967, No.196

(i.1) If the superintendent has a reasonable belief, at any time during the school year, that appropriate education may not be occurring in the home education program, he may submit a letter to the supervisor, by certified mail, return receipt requested, requiring that an evaluation be conducted in accordance with subsection I(2) and that an evaluator’s certification stating that an appropriate education is occurring for the school year under review, be submitted to the district by the supervisor within thirty (30) days of the receipt of the certified letter. The certified letter shall include the basis for the superintendent’s reasonable belief. If the tests, as required in subsection I(1), have not been administered at the time of the receipt of the certified letter by the supervisor, the supervisor shall submit the other required documentation to the evaluator and shall submit the test results to the evaluator with the completed documentation at the conclusion of the school year. The certified letter shall include the basis for the superintendent’s reasonable belief. If the certification is not submitted within thirty (30) days of receipt of the certified letter, the board of school directors shall provide for a proper hearing in accordance with subsection (k).

((j.1) added Oct. 31, 2014, P.L.2967, No.196)
(k) If a hearing is required by the provisions of subsection (h.1), (i.1) or (j.1), the board of school directors shall provide for a proper hearing by a duly qualified and impartial hearing examiner within thirty (30) days. The examiner shall render a decision within fifteen (15) days of the hearing except that he may require the establishment of a remedial education plan mutually agreed to by the superintendent and supervisor of the home education program which shall continue the home education program. The decision of the examiner may be appealed by either the supervisor of the home education program or the superintendent to the Secretary of Education, Commonwealth Court or court of common pleas.

(l) If the hearing examiner finds that the evidence does not indicate that appropriate education is taking place in the home education program, the home education program for the child shall be out of compliance with the requirements of this section and section 1327, and the student shall be promptly enrolled in the public school district of residence or a nonpublic school or a licensed private academic school. The home education program may continue during the time of any appeal.

(m) At such time as the child's home education program has been determined to be out of compliance with the provisions of this section and section 1327, the supervisor or spouse of the supervisor of the home education program shall not be eligible to supervise a home education program for that child, as provided for in subsection (b)(1) of this section, for a period of twelve (12) months from the date of such determination.

((m) added Oct. 31, 2014, P.L.2967, No.196)

(n) Nothing in this section shall be construed to affect Federal or State law relating to special education for students with disabilities in home education programs.

((n) added Oct. 31, 2014, P.L.2967, No.196)

(1327.1 added Dec. 21, 1988, P.L.1321, No.169)
When must I begin submitting an affidavit and objectives for my child?
(This information pertains to those in OUTSIDE the Philadelphia City School District)

First, a bit of history. For many years, the PA Dept of Education’s policy on this read as follows:

“If your child turns eight before or during the first two weeks of the annual school term, or within the first two weeks of the second semester (if the school district in which you reside promotes students semi-annually), the affidavit needs to be filed by the child's birth date. If the child turns 8 during the school term, the affidavit should be filed prior to the beginning of the next school year. (24 P.S. 13-1304). If the child has been enrolled in any school in grade 1 or above, you must file an affidavit whenever you begin homeschooling regardless of the child's age (24 P.S. 13-1326).”

Under this policy, it was normal for home educators to wait to file an affidavit for an 8-year-old until the school term after the child’s 8th birthday. It also exempted families from filing an affidavit for children who attended public kindergarten only and then switched to homeschooling. This was supported by (24 P.S. 13-1304).

As of 1/28/16, the PDE's policy changed its policy to read as follows:

“If a child has never been enrolled in any legal educational option (see the Educational Options section), an affidavit must be submitted by the student’s eighth birthday. However, school districts have the option of allowing the affidavit to be submitted at the beginning of the next school year, if the child’s birthday is after the first two weeks of school.”

This change in policy was brought about by PA Supreme Court appeal decision, June 16, 2014 in the Commonwealth of PA v. Jennifer Ann Kerstetter. This case had NOTHING to do with home education. It involved twin girls who were enrolled into public kindergarten and then had too many unexcused absences. The court ruled that once a child is enrolled in kindergarten, they have to abide by the attendance laws, meaning “continuous and consistent attendance without excessive unexcused absences.”

This lead the PDE to change their position on kindergarten students to the following:

“If a child was enrolled in a public school for kindergarten or above and transferred to a home education program, an affidavit and an evaluation is due every year regardless of the age or grade of the child.”

“If a child attended first grade or above in any public or nonpublic school, or the child was enrolled in a private tutoring program for first grade or above, or an affidavit to homeschool was submitted for first grade or above, an affidavit and an evaluation is due every year regardless of the child’s age.”

But back to the Kerstetter decision, the issue of the court’s decision affecting kindergarteners:

“Appellant’s amicus curiae, the Home School Legal Defense Association, claims that the disposition below, if upheld, could negatively affect homeschooling parents in certain circumstances. Amicus highlights the “not uncommon” circumstance where parents enroll a child in a public kindergarten program, subsequently determine that the child is not yet ready for the “formal education setting,” and withdraw the child from school. Such parents may keep the child at home or in some other arrangement until they believe the child is ready for the public school environment; in the alternative, some parents opt to homeschool a child instead of returning him or her to public school. Amicus calls these practices “withdrawal and waiting.” Amicus then argues that children who have been formally withdrawn from public school for beneficial developmental reasons should not be subject to compulsory attendance laws until they reach eight years old.”

“The Commonwealth states that it supports the concept of a formal “withdrawal and waiting,” and would not view such children as subject to compulsory attendance.”

Based upon the law, the PDE’s current policies and the PA Supreme Court’s statements, here are my answers:

When must I begin submitting an affidavit and objectives for my child?

If your child has never been enrolled in any legal educational options, you must submit an affidavit and objectives for the child “not later than at the age of eight (8) years.” NOTE: There are differing opinions as to whether this means on the child’s 8th birthday or before the child’s 9th birthday.

If your child has attended public kindergarten but you choose not to enroll them in 1st grade, you can formally withdraw the child from kindergarten, citing the concept of “withdrawal and waiting” as discussed above and wait until the child is 8 years old to submit an affidavit and objectives.

Ultimately, it is up to you as the supervisor of your home education program to decide how to comply with the law on this and all matters pertaining to your program.

Admission of Beginners.--(a) School districts shall admit beginners to the public schools during at least the first two weeks of the annual school term in districts operating on an annual promotion basis and during the first two weeks of either the first or the second semester of the school term in districts operating on a semi-annual promotion basis; thereafter, the admission of beginners shall be at the discretion of each school district.”

   “(c) The term "beginners," as used in this section, shall mean any child that should enter the lowest grade of the primary school or the lowest primary class above the kindergarten level. (1304 amended June 30, 2011, P.L.112, No.24).”

Standardized Testing

The PA Home Education law requires that “in grades three, five, and eight results of nationally normed standardized achievement tests in reading/language arts and mathematics or the results of Statewide tests administered in these grade levels” be included in the child’s portfolio. If you are you planning on having your child tested this year, here is some useful information:

- The only restriction by law on who may give the test to the student in grades 3, 5, and 8 is that it cannot be the parent. Any other family member may administer the test to the child – many families use an older sibling. (However, some test manufacturers may have their own rules – for example, a certain test may require someone with a college degree to administer it).

- The parent determines the grade of the child.

- The Pennsylvania Department of Education has provided a list of tests to choose from. They vary in scope and time length. See list below.

- Home educated children do NOT have to take the PSSA tests.

- Only scores in reading/language art and math testing are required to be turned into the school districts. Any other subject areas are optional.

- There are no “acceptable” test scores. The law only requires that they be taken. The school districts may not refuse your right to home school based upon the test results.

- Anyone may order an achievement test from most of the test companies listed below. Not all suppliers have the same requirements for test administers. For example, BJUP has more restrictions than other suppliers for the same test.

- Testing does not have to be done at a ‘testing site’, in a group setting, or in your support group or local public school. Studies have, in fact, shown that students do better being tested in familiar surroundings, and for homeschoolers, that would be home.

- The testing provided by homeschool service providers is not superior to the tests that a parent may order on their own, nor is participation in large group testing required by the Home Education Law in Pennsylvania.

- Testing can be less expensive when tests are ordered through the mail (or purchased and taken online) from a test supplier when compared with the costs of testing provided by a homeschooling achievement testing business.

- Wechsler Individual Achievement Test III (WIAT-III)
- Comprehensive Testing Program (CTPIV)

Your Evaluator

It is important to keep in mind that the evaluator is hired by the home school family and should support the family’s goals, regardless of whether it is a certificated public school teacher or someone from the “home school community”. I use the example of finding a physician—you ask around and find someone who will work with you on your own educational goals. Just like your doctor should support your health goals— he needs to be someone with whom you feel comfortable talking and sharing—you need to be able to hire an evaluator who matches your educational and family philosophy. Some public teachers will do this, while others know only what they were trained to do and can’t think outside the classroom model. I like to find an evaluator who is open to any style of home education which would include all sort of learning options.

Our job as home school supervisors is to ask a lot of questions in order to find an evaluator who meets our needs, who accepts our type of education, who is knowledgeable about the wide range of home education styles, and who is supportive of us. If you have an appointment with your evaluator and you are nervous, then you have the wrong evaluator! You should not be scared. Know that the evaluator is only seeing your child once based on what you show him or her. Your evaluator should be your cheerleader!

The number one thing I look for in an evaluator is understanding—specifically the understanding that I, the supervisor of the home education program, make the final decisions for my family. I also like to talk with an evaluator who has home educated his or her own children as he or she has walked in these shoes. That is not to say that only homeschoolers can do evaluations; it depends on what you are looking for in the evaluation. Really, all you need is a report that you satisfied the provisions of the home education law and that the children are making progress.

If you are turning to your evaluator for advice or curriculum or learning issues, make sure that person knows all about your family. I find my comfort in talking with other home school moms who have encountered similar challenges, rather than only go with the single opinion of my evaluator. I try not to give my authority away to my evaluator, just as I do not give my authority over my children to the government.

I think we should all be very confident in who we choose for our evaluators. We pay them, and they offer a service that is required of us. A good evaluator also understands the law and what is required. Let’s keep it simple and depend on each other for support, advice, and guidance.

The home education supervisor is in control of the home schooling, not the evaluator.

Prior to Beginning Your Home Education Program

When to File: For a child who has never been in a public or private school situation, please see the document “When Must I Begin Reporting” on pages 8-9 for an in-depth explanation. For a child who has attended a public school in 1st grade and up, the documents must be filed before the first day of school in your school district. Start dates vary from district to district.

If you are withdrawing your child from a public or private school after the school year has begun, you must file your affidavit and objectives prior to keeping your child home from school. The affidavit serves as your withdrawal notice from a public school. If you are withdrawing your child from a private school or cyber school, you must follow the school’s policy for withdrawal. However, once your affidavit and objectives have been submitted to your local district according to the law, you are legally home educating. You do NOT have to wait for an “approval” letter from the district. School district approval is not required to commence home education programs.

What To File: A completed affidavit that has been notarized, such as the one from the www.yhsa.org or from another reputable home education website. The school district may provide you with an affidavit; but use caution, as there could be information requested that is not in compliance with the law.

A list of educational objectives for each of the required subject areas for the level of instruction for each student. If you have a child who has been labeled special needs and has an IEP with your district, then your program must address the child’s needs and be approved by a certified special education teacher or a licensed clinical or certified school psychologist.

NOTE: Since the affidavit attests that your child has received the appropriate health services, please be sure your child is receiving these mandated services each year. DO NOT submit your child's medical records to the school. If your affidavit attests to your child’s immunization status, we recommend only submitting the actual immunization record or a Medical Exemption form if requested in writing.

Where to File: All home education program paperwork is submitted to the superintendent of the school district in which you reside, or their designated representative, usually located at the district administration building.

Check with your district to be sure you’re submitting your paperwork to the appropriate office. Be sure to keep copies and get a receipt for everything you submit. Some district offices will provide a receipt, or you can be prepared with a receipt of your own for them to sign.

As Soon as Possible After Beginning Your Program

Start interviewing and searching out an evaluator for your home school program. Find someone with a similar educational philosophy. Ask what they expect to see at your evaluation appointment. Do not choose an evaluator who asks for things the law does not require.

Schedule medical/dental services required for your child’s grade.

During the School Year

Provide 180 days of instruction (or 900 hours for elementary/990 for secondary). If you bring your child home during the school year, find out how many days they have completed in school and subtract that from 180 to determine how many days you must log by June 30. You, as the supervisor of the program, determine what constitutes a “day”.
Keep a log of reading materials used, including textbooks, other books, videos, web sites, games, apps, etc. If you do not use many books, you may also want to include a resource list of videos, games, apps and other learning materials.

Keep some samples of writings, paperwork, or creative materials developed by your child. For learning that doesn’t generate paper, such as sports, theater, field trips, projects, etc., a photograph and brief description describing the activity is a great way to provide a sample.

January

Schedule the required testing for children in grades 3, 5, and 8. Testing can be completed any time during the school year but should be completed before your evaluation appointment.

February/March

Book your evaluation appointment with your evaluator. Make sure you have enough time to get your Evaluator’s Certification prior to June 30.

At the End of Your School Year

Meet with your evaluator. Bring the following items:

- Work samples
- Log of reading materials/resources used and attendance information
- Results of standardized testing if your child is in grade 3, 5, or 8

Submit your Evaluator’s Certification letter to your district by June 30. If you choose to hand deliver your letter, be aware that district offices may have different or shortened hours during the summer months. You may choose to mail the letter. If so, consider mailing Certified and Return Receipt Requested, and be sure it will be received by June 30. Be sure to keep copies and get a receipt for everything you submit. DO NOT submit your portfolio – this is no longer required by the Law.

To continue home schooling, you must file your new documents each year by August 1st. However, it is advantageous to file your paperwork by July 1st. This will allow you to begin logging your school days starting July 1. A Pennsylvania school year runs from July 1 through June 30.
