Dr. Wes Fondren holds a Ph.D. in Communication Science with a concentration in media effects and cognitive psychology. As a lead researcher for Nickelodeon, school boards, and even the Russian state, Dr. Fondren has examined the link between media consumption in children and both the physical and cognitive impacts. Apart from research endeavors, Dr. Fondren has won 16 teaching awards, four advising awards, and one student advocacy award. He is also an ordained minister and associate pastor at Cornerstone Church. He and his wife, Tina, have four children (14, 11, 9, 6) and have homeschooled for the last ten years. His two favorite phrases are Soli Deo Gloria (To God Alone the Glory) and Roll Tide.
