Youth Ensembles

Artis—Naples offers three performing ensembles for students from Lee and Collier counties. The Naples Philharmonic Youth Chorus, Naples Philharmonic Youth Orchestra and Naples Philharmonic Youth Symphonia are training ensembles for motivated and dedicated student musicians. We hope you will encourage your students to audition. Limited scholarships are available for each ensemble.

Naples Philharmonic Youth Chorus

The Naples Philharmonic Youth Chorus (NPYC) provides young singers performance opportunities on Hayes Hall stage, alongside the Naples Philharmonic and at distinct community events. The 100-voice NPYC is directed by James Cochran and includes singers in elementary, middle and high school. NPYC rehearses in groups divided by age and ability on Monday evenings at Artis—Naples.

Auditions: August 31; open to students elementary through high school

Schrenk Student Photography Institute

The Schrenk Student Photography Institute is an intensive photography program aimed at highly motivated Collier County high school students. Each year, a class of up to 20 students is selected to participate. The program consists of four weekend workshops during the academic year and a two-week seminar in June.

The institute is designed to give students broad experiences in various areas of photography, including the camera, lighting, composition, digital technology and portfolio preparation. The program also assists students in making vocational decisions, understanding visual communications and preparing for college-level image-making with a curriculum that emphasizes the craft and aesthetic of visual problem solving equally.

A student's first two years in the program will concentrate on technical and formal excellence with the third year dedicated to the student's individual areas of interest and building a college-level or exhibition portfolio. Work produced by the students will be exhibited at The Baker Museum and sites throughout the Artis—Naples campus. The primary instructor for the Photography Institute is J. Tomas Lopez, M.F.A., Professor of Photography, and Director of Electronic Media at the University of Miami.

The Schrenk Student Photography Institute is generously underwritten by the Schrenk Family Foundation.

Application Submissions

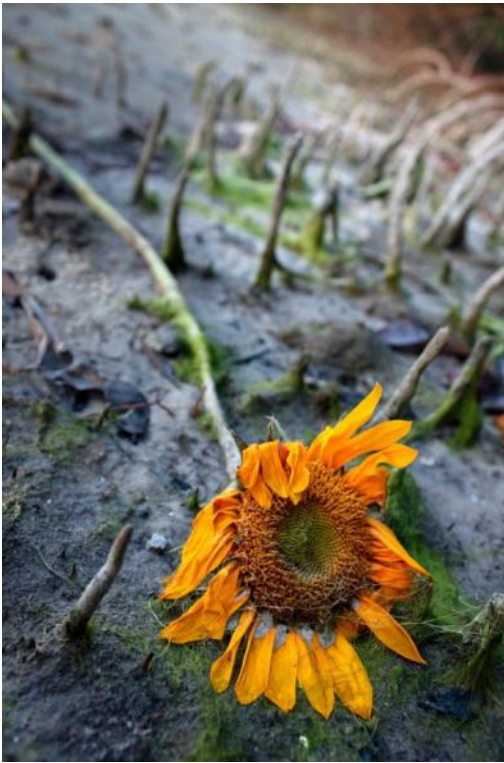

Applications are accepted in the fall of each year. The application form is on the Artis—Naples website at <http://artisnaples.org/education/student/schrenk-photography-institute>. Notification of acceptance will be sent to your email address.

The Baker Museum School Tours

Scheduling Your Museum Visit

Museum tours are FREE for school groups, including chaperones. Visits last approximately 90 minutes to 2 hours and include guided tours and an art activity when desired.

Please request a visit by contacting Jessica Wozniak, Curator of Education, 239-254-2621, jwozniak@artisnaples.org

Please be prepared to provide the following information:

- Date preferences (please have three potential dates in mind)
- Preferred time of arrival and departure
- Choice of exhibition(s)
- School name, contact name, phone number and email address
- Group size (groups larger than 90 students will be divided into separate days)
- Grade levels
- Special needs

Chaperones/Responsibility

Please arrange for at least one chaperone for every 15 students. Chaperones are expected to stay with the students and assist the docent/museum staff member in facilitating a pleasant experience for the students.

Lunch

If your group plans to stay for lunch please inform us when you schedule your visit. We hope to be able to accommodate all of your needs. Please help by giving us advance notice to make the proper arrangements.

About Your Museum Visit

What is a museum?

A museum is an institution devoted to acquiring, caring for, studying and displaying objects of lasting interest. It provides a unique educational experience through its exhibitions, related programming and activities inspiring curiosity and creative thinking.

Why can't I touch the artwork?

All of us have natural oil in our skin that can damage the paintings, drawings and sculptures. We want to make sure that our artwork is kept in excellent condition so that it may be enjoyed for years to come. Remember to look with your eyes and not your hands. Thanks for doing your part to save art!

Can I take pictures in the museum?

Still photography for personal use is permitted unless otherwise noted. Photography may not be permitted in certain exhibitions due to copyright restrictions. Interchangeable-lens cameras, tripods and flash photography are not permitted.

Why do I need to stay on the tour or with a chaperone?

The best way for you to learn about the art is to listen and participate with the docent, your tour guide. During your visit, your chaperones are responsible for you, so you must stay with them. We want to make sure that you and all of our guests have a fun and safe time at the museum.

Are bags allowed in the museum?

When you bring a bag to the museum we ask that it be a small bag. We prefer that you leave backpacks and totes either at school or on the bus. You should not need them on your visit. Ladies, if you are carrying a purse, please opt for a small one on the day of your visit. The museum staff may request that anyone check their bag if it is considered too large.

How do I behave in the museum?

The museum is a fun place where we encourage you to learn about art, so go ahead and ask questions and talk about what you think about the artwork. Just remember to use your inside voice and raise your hand before speaking. Please walk while at the museum, whether you are in a gallery or in one of the sculpture gardens. When going up stairs, be careful and use the handrail.

Is all the artwork kid-friendly?

Some works of art contain subject matter that may not be appropriate for all audiences. Instructors, please use your discretion when viewing the exhibitions. When in doubt, ask a docent or museum staff member.

2015-16 Exhibitions

Jan Yoors: A Retrospective

September 5-October 11, 2015

A remarkably gifted craftsman, Jan Yoors excelled in tapestry, painting, photography and drawing. His extraordinary life informed much of his practice: After absconding with a Gypsy tribe at age 12, he worked closely with the Allies to help the Gypsies escape genocide during World War II. This exhibition celebrates one of the most prolific, but perhaps understudied, artists of the 20th century. Organized by The Baker Museum.

Weegee by Weegee: Photographs from the Jean Pigozzi Collection

September 5-November 8, 2015

Intense and often darkly humorous, Weegee's voyeuristic portraits capture the excitement and stark realities of urban life. Weegee shot street vendors, kissing moviegoers and the victims of fresh crime scenes before the police's arrival. His documentary-style immediacy revealed his perspective on the reality of New York City and influenced generations of photographers and filmmakers. Weegee by Weegee intimately details the extremes of the modern city.

Celebrating 15 Years of Collecting at The Baker Museum

September 5, 2015-January 31, 2016

Drawn from the museum's permanent collections of American, Mexican and European art, Celebrating 15 Years of Collecting at The Baker Museum marks an important milestone in the history of the institution. Showcasing iconic pieces of the museum's collection as well as rarely seen works, this exhibition celebrates the individuals whose passion and vision helped assemble one of the most impressive compilations of 20th century art in Southwest Florida. Organized by The Baker Museum.

Schrenk Student Photography

Opens September 5, 2015

Generously underwritten by George & Wynnell Schrenk

Approximately 100 works from high school students in the year-round Schrenk Student Photography Institute, led by J. Tomas Lopez, Professor of Photography and Director of Electronic Media at the University of Miami.

Yves Saint Laurent and Halston: Fashioning the 70s is curated by Patricia Mears and Emma McClendon of The Museum at the Fashion Institute of Technology, New York.

Yves Saint Laurent + Halston:
 Fashioning the '70s
 November 7, 2015-March 6, 2016

Yves Saint Laurent + Halston: Fashioning the '70s offers a unique perspective on two of the best-known fashion designers in modern history who defined the sexy and glamorous looks of the 1970s. The approximately 80 ensembles and 20 accessories—drawn from The Museum at FIT's extensive collection of pieces from both designers— reflect the social, economic and political realities of their creators and the world at large.

Naples Collects

February 13-June 19, 2016

This eclectic exhibition brings together examples of high-quality art owned by local collectors from some of the best-known American artists of the 20th century, works by masters of European art and contemporary artists. Naples Collects is a one-of-a-kind opportunity to share with our patrons and supporters the stories of area collectors who have devoted years to amassing collections that speak to their tastes, interests and passions.

Paco Pomet

November 28, 2015-March 20, 2016

Paco Pomet is a contemporary artist from Spain who uses oil on canvas to paint familiar scenes and iconic gestures based on historical photographs and landscapes. With an overall monochrome effect, including bursts of unexpected bright colors, his art is original, quirky and always created with an underlying wit.

Florida Contemporary

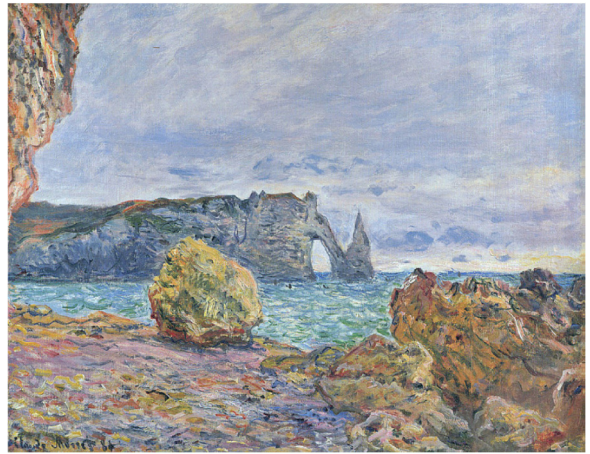

Opens February 2016

This multimedia art exhibition showcases artists currently practicing in the Sunshine State whose work addresses a vast range of themes. From realism to abstraction and everything in between, this survey features selected works by local photographers, painters, sculptors and graphic artists who have spent a lifetime at their craft, alongside an exciting array of new artists.

8th Annual Student Exhibition

May 7-July 31, 2016

The 8th Annual Student Exhibition includes approximately 600 works by Collier County public and private school students, grades pre-K through 12. A diverse array of media, including painting, drawing, sculpture, ceramics, textiles and photography, will be displayed.
