

PHOTOGRAPHY MODEL RELEASE

I grant, J. Parris Photography, the right to take photographs of myself, my children, and my family as deemed fit by the photographer.

Terms and Conditions

- Payment is requested in full before your session date. Preview and/or Digital Images will not be provided until the session has been paid in full.
- Your Session Price is collected at the time of booking. Payment is nonrefundable. Should an emergency occur or my child/family is feeling unwell, please contact us for different arrangements. Please do not attend with sick children/family out of respect for other families and us as photographers.
- As photographer, J. Parris Photography, owns full copyright of all images taken during this session. All digital images and previews remain the exclusive property of J. Parris Photography. At delivery, you will be provided with a legal Print Release, allowing you and your family full permission to make prints of any images provided during this session, as well as, full downloading and sharing rights for personal use only.
- When posting your photos on Social Media, please kindly give photo credit to @J. Parris Photography and link back to our business page or website. Please no editing of images or use of Instagram filters. This is to protect our name, reputation, and style consistency as a professional photographer.
- Our client's happiness is our top priority. We want to provide the best possible imagery of our clients. Therefore, all delivered images are subject to the discretion of the photographer. Any re-edits or retouching may be subject to additional fees, depending on the nature of the request.
- Only professionally edited, hi-resolution images are provided. We do not provide any RAW images to our clients.
- We strive to capture everything needed during your session time. Sessions are a one-time event, retakes may be subject to another portrait fee and at the discretion of the photographer.
- Due to the nature and purposes of these Homeschool Pictures Sessions, we will not be posting any pictures of your children on our website or social media without speaking to you directly first.

Jeremy R. Parris . Photographer