

TOP TEN REASONS YOU NEED TRINITY HOMESCHOOL EXTENSION:

10: Socialization: It is a myth that homeschoolers are inadequately socialized. Group classes provide a forum for peer-based interaction, fellowship and discipleship. Natural leaders can be developed. Those who are more reserved can interact with others, gaining confidence in social settings on their own terms.

9. Family dynamics: Do you want the benefits of homeschooling, but need help? With enrollment in THE, homeschooling parents remain in control of their child's educational progress. High-school age students can experience some degree of independence as they transition from home to the world. With older children enrolled at THE, parents can spend more focused attention on younger children; or parents can use the time to focus on their own academic, employment and relationship goals. THE operates as an extension of your academic plan.

8. Individualized Attention: Small class sizes + caring teachers = success for your student. Need to take time off for medical treatment, sports competitions, once-in-a-lifetime travel opportunities? We'll help you get caught up and maintain a consistent educational program that is right for the unique individual that is your child.

7. Varied Instructional Methods: Our teachers are experienced educational professionals who use a variety of instructional methods to promote learning within ... and outside of ... the classroom. Our goal is that your student will master the course content and be armed with an array of problem-solving strategies that will lead to success in future academic and employment endeavors.

6. Time Management: (1) Time Management for you, the parent: Parents with many family, work, church, and/or community responsibilities can appreciate the option of having someone else plan, teach, grade and supervise their students for part, or all, of their academic programs. (2) Students have the opportunity to develop their own time management skill required to complete assignments on schedule.

5. Academic Instruction: When students reach the middle and high school subjects, some parents may feel inadequately trained to provide the level of instruction needed to prepare students for the requirements of the modern workplace or for upcoming college curriculum. Many parents, who primarily homeschool and wish to retain their rights to determine the education options best suited for their child, recognize the benefits of professional academic instruction. THE allows you to sign up for just one class, or many. You decide where you need help. Rest assured that your child will get a quality education with teachers focused, highly competent and passionate about their subjects.

4. College & Workplace Preparedness: THE is designed to serve as a transition between being totally homeschooled and operating in a more traditional college or workplace setting. Classes are designed to be college-preparatory. It is our philosophy to encourage students to set high academic goals for themselves, and to then set a course to reach those goals. THE is partnered with College Prep U, a locally based company that guides families through the college search, admissions and financial aid process. THE students receive the services of College Prep U for free. www.collegeprepu.com

3. Financial Benefits: THE is a lower cost alternative to a private school that provides quality education at a price that's affordable for homeschooling families. Does your household need to have two incomes, but you still want to homeschool? Let us plan, present and grade your lessons, while keeping your child fully engaged two days per week. Another financial benefit, as mentioned in Item #4 is our partnership with College Prep U, which is available to THE students at no fee. College Prep U can help you find the right college at the right price (Hello, Scholarship!).

2. Spiritual Guidance: We are a Christian school. The character development of our students is a foremost concern. We hold our students to the highest standards of Christian behavior, and require a respectful attitude toward their classmates and teachers at all times.

1. THE TEACHERS!!! We could put another list of 10 here on why Trinity Homeschool Extension teachers are so awesome. They are proven educators with a passion for their subjects. As veteran homeschoolers, they understand the unique mindset of homeschooling families. They are committed to the success of your child: academically, physically, emotionally, socially, and spiritually.
